

MARINE WING SUPPORT SQUADRON 171

MARINE AIRCRAFT GROUP 12

1ST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING

Command Philosophy

"Leaders in Marine Wing Support Squadron 171, care for, care about, and take care of Marines and Sailors, their families, and the mission."

-
- Leaders exist throughout the organization and this philosophy is focused on officers, staff noncommissioned officers, petty officers, and noncommissioned officers.
  - Marine Wing Support Squadron 171 (MWSS-171) consists of organic forces, attachments, detachments, fleet augments, and individual augments.
  - To care for is to "look after and provide for the needs of"
  - To care about is to "feel concern or interest; attach importance to something."
  - To take care of is "the provision of what is necessary for the health, welfare, maintenance, and protection of someone or something. "
  - Marines and Sailors may be self-explanatory, but their families are more complex; Family is what the Marine or Sailor considers to be Family.
  - Mission includes those Mission Essential Tasks assigned to MWSS-171 by the Marine Corps and U.S. Indo-Pacific.

This laconic philosophy intentionally prioritizes leading Marines. It aligns with higher headquarters' priorities and reinforces the Marine Corps' Leadership Principles. It will be at the core of decision making processes across the command.

In Omnia Paratus

R. L. STEVENSON III
Lieutenant Colonel, USMC
Commanding Officer, MWSS-171