

The Unit, Personal & Family Readiness Program (UPFRP) is the Marine Corps program for ensuring that personal and family wellbeing are prioritized as part of the greater goal of building a resilient Marine, professionally and personally, to meet the mission. Our greatest asset is our Marines who make this squadron such a high performing unit. Whether a Marine has been in for a few months or many decades, our commitment to them and their success remains the same.

The primary point of contact within the unit for UPFRP is the Uniformed Readiness Coordinator (URC). When the unit is in deployment or if the URC is otherwise unavailable, the MAG-24 Deployment Readiness Coordinator (DRC) provides UPFRP support. Below are contact points for URC/DRC:

- URC: Capt Edward Bailey – OFFICE: (808) 257-4024; EMAIL: Edward.Bailey@usmc.mil
- DRC: Namji Steinemann – WORK MOBILE: (808) 780-8153; EMAIL: Namji.Steinemann@usmc.mil

Below are some resources for you to access more information about the squadron:

- Official Website: <https://www.1stmaw.marines.mil/Subordinate-Units/Marine-Aircraft-Group-24/VMM-363/>
- Squadron Facebook Page (Public): <https://www.facebook.com/vmm363/>
- Lucky Red Lion Ohana Facebook (Private group page for families and open to VMM-363 Marines and family members): <https://www.facebook.com/groups/RedLionOhana>
- Instagram #VMM363 (Public): <https://www.instagram.com/explore/tags/vmm363/>