MANPOWER & RESERVE AFFAIRS FOR ENLISTED

The Manpower & Reserve Affairs Department employs an integrated manpower system across the Service enterprise that attracts, develops, retains, and supports our Marines, their families, and our civilian workforce as they pursue their professional aspirations and personal career goals, in order to provide our commanders the human “steel” necessary to fight and win the Nation’s battles.

Re-enlisting in your PMOS

Reenlisting can lead to advanced MOS training, career growth, and the chance for promotion. Moreover, it continues your access to a host of valuable benefits, from healthcare and housing to education and retirement plans.

Lateral Move Opportunities

Embracing lateral moves allows you to leverage your diverse talents and versatility. By exploring new PMOS options, you can invest in your personal and professional growth. This is a chance to not only broaden your skill set but also contribute to our Corps’ mission in new and impactful ways.

Special Duty Assignment

Special Duty assignments offer unique opportunities for personal and professional growth. Whether it’s Drill Instructor Duty, Recruiting Duty, or Marine Security Guard Detachment Commander Duty at U.S. Embassies worldwide, these roles come with distinct benefits.

Direct Affiliation Program

Direct Affiliation into the Marine Corps Reserves offers a pathway for individuals to extend their service beyond active duty. There are numerous opportunities in both the Selected Marine Corps Reserve and Individual Mobilization Augmentee components throughout the country.

Enlisted to Officer Program

Are you ready to transform your Marine Corps journey from enlisted to officer? Discover the four distinguished pathways that empower dedicated and motivated enlisted Marines to ascend to the ranks of commissioned officers.

Marine Education

Let’s talk about college benefits while serving on active duty. Marines have access to an annual amount of $4,500 in tuition assistance. Marines can also access their G.I. Bill once they transition or transfer that benefit to their dependents (spouse, children).

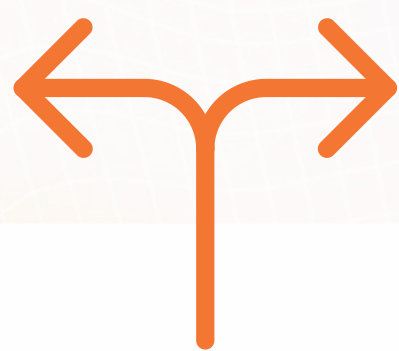

FUTURE RESOURCES

TRANSITION READINESS PROGRAM

The Transition Readiness Program (TRP) ensures that Marines are prepared for their transition from military to civilian life and provides Marines and their families with the tools and resources needed to pursue the Department of Defense-directed Career Readiness Standards.

Initial/Pre-Separation Counseling

Attendees will discuss their transitional goals, receive relevant resource referrals, and review options for supplemental workshops and training. Initial counseling must be completed prior to the Pre-Separation Counseling Brief.

TRS

Explore topics like employment, VA benefits, financial planning, transition resources, etc., and receive one-on-one guidance from a Personal and Professional Development Advisor. Completion of Initial Counseling and Pre-Separation Counseling is required prior to attendance at TRS.

Skill Bridge

The DOD SkillBridge program is an opportunity for active-duty military members to gain valuable civilian work experience through specific industry training, apprenticeships, or internships during the last 180 days of active duty service.

Veteran Affairs

Veterans can earn a range of benefits that help them transition back to civilian life in the country they fought to defend. The VA helps service members transition out of military service and assists with education, home loans, life insurance, and much more.

Career Expos

Career Expos provide you with a great opportunity to network with employers and learn all about different job and training opportunities. Come get more information on all the career-building resources available to you and ensure a successful start to your new career path.

Marine for Life Network

The M4L Network connects transitioning Marines and their family members to education resources, employment opportunities, and other Veterans services that aid in their career and life goals outside of the military services.
